PORTUGUESE BEND, CALIFORNIA

The Wayfarers' Chapel, with walls of clear glass supported by sturdy columns of laminated redwood, stands above the ocean at Abalone Cove. A cloister joins the Chapel's three-sided campanile tower with the Educational Building (left foreground). Native white sandstone is used in much of the building.

Hi!

We just visited this beautiful Chapel. Thought I'd replace the postcard you sent us when I was studying art and Frank Lloyd Wright.

Love,

Lou
